Beacon Communities' Pam Goodman Named a Glassdoor Highest Rated CEO in 2017

Boston, MA, 6/21/17 – Beacon Communities CEO, Pamela Goodman, has won a Glassdoor Employees' Choice Award recognizing the Highest Rated CEOs for 2017 in the U.S. SMB category. This is the second consecutive year Pam has been named on the list. Glassdoor released its annual report honoring the Highest Rated CEOs, which highlights top leaders employees love working for at Small & Medium Companies in the U.S.

Among chief executives recognized by employees in the U.S., Pam received an impressive approval rating based on the anonymous and voluntary reviews Beacon Communities' employees shared on Glassdoor throughout the past year. Pam is ranked #18 on this year's list of Highest Rated CEOs.

"It is an honor to be recognized by Glassdoor, and to be in the company of this dynamic group of business leaders. I am privileged to work with a dedicated and engaged team, whose community focus allows us continued growth with purpose," said Ms. Goodman. Among the 700,000 companies reviewed on Glassdoor, the average CEO approval rating is 67 percent. Pam's approval rating for the time period reviewed for the listing was 97% and her overall approval rating is 99%.

"CEOs tell us the Glassdoor Employees' Choice Award is one of the highest honors they can receive because it truly reflects employee opinion about the job they do every day. I congratulate all of the winners on this significant honor," said Robert Hohman, Glassdoor co-founder and CEO. "We know that CEO approval ratings correlate to overall employee satisfaction and trust in senior leadership, which contributes to long-term employee engagement, ultimately helping an employer's recruiting and retention efforts."

When employees submit reviews about their company on Glassdoor, they are asked to rate various factors about their employment experience, including their overall satisfaction and other workplace attributes like senior management. As part of these ratings, employees are also asked to rate whether they approve, disapprove or are neutral about the job their CEO is doing.
