Pam Goodman Honored with NH&RA Affordable Housing Vision Award

Boston, MA, 11/07/17 – The National Housing & Rehabilitation Association (NH&RA) honored Beacon Communities CEO Pam Goodman with the 2017 Affordable Housing Vision Award at the Fall Developers Forum held at the Renaissance Boston Waterfront Hotel. Chrystal Kornegay, Undersecretary of the Massachusetts Department of Housing and Community Development, also received the award. The annual NH&RA Affordable Housing Vision Awards were awarded to these two leaders in recognition of their stewardship and expansion of affordable housing opportunities for low-income families around the country.

“Our 2017 honorees represent the very best of our field. In their decades of work to promote affordable housing developments and policy, Pam and Chrystal have demonstrated leadership, commitment and, most importantly, imagination.” said NH&RA Executive Director Thom Amdur. Throughout her 20+ years at Beacon Communities, Pam Goodman’s leadership has helped grow the company into one of the most prolific affordable housing companies in the U.S. Since Pam became CEO, she was named twice on Glassdoor’s Top CEO listing and under her leadership Beacon has been named twice on the Massachusetts Top Women-led Businesses.

About the Affordable Housing Vision Awards

Each year since 2004, NH&RA has bestowed its Affordable Housing Vision Award to affordable housing and community development leaders who have made valuable contributions to the field and demonstrated years of leadership, commitment and imagination. Previous Vision Award winners include the late Mayor Tom Menino, former Congressman Barney Frank, Jack Manning of Boston Capital and Lisa Alberghini of the Boston Archdiocese Planning Office for Urban Affairs.
